"Every year we set aside a day in honor of the Fourth of July, in doing so, we are carrying on one of the many traditions of which we our proud. We pause momentarily to reflect on the many noble deeds of our forefathers. They helped establish the glorious history of our nation. We are today reaping the rewards of their steadfast loyalty to the principles of America and to many sacrifices that made our country independent."

"It is up to us to see that this country retains the strength and unity shown by our forefathers."
